About the ReStore

Twin Cities Habitat ReStore is a retail outlet where quality new and like-new building materials are sold at discounted prices. The ReStore sells vendor return, scratch and dent, over stock, and items donated by individual donors. The purpose of the ReStore is to generate revenue to fund Habitat homes, to provide low cost building materials to the public, to keep usable materials out of the land fill, and to increase the breadth of donations Habitat is able to accept. There are currently over 400 ReStores across North America and the ReStore model has been very successful.
